Change

The only thing constant in this life is change. As the Columbian year changes, so will our Assembly. Change isn't always a bad thing. In fact, the changes that our Assembly goes through each year, especially the changes in leadership, are a good thing.

I have learned much during the past year. That learning has allowed me to change. I'll not try to quantify any personal changes as good or bad.

Things also changed for the Assembly during the past year. It is up to you as individuals and as a group to determine whether the changes that occurred were good or bad. Since the changes that did occur came about as a result of a majority vote, I assume most of you are/were in favor of those changes.

Those opposed to the change have two choices: accept the change as the will of the majority and move on, or work within the framework of the organization to bring about more change. Though Unity is one of the cornerstones of our organization, unity does not preclude disagreement.

People don't agree on everything. Even families disagree. Disagreements only become problems for families and organizations when they forget the love and respect that they have for those that they might disagree with over a particular issue.

Though we are members of the 4th Degree of our Order, it's important to remember the lessons of earlier degrees. If you haven't been to a 2nd/3rd degree exemplification in a few years, I urge you to go. It's a great reminder for conducting ourselves within our organization, and interacting with each other. Especially when there is the inevitable difference of opinion.

Thank you and God Bless you,

John Brodie
Faithful Navigator
